COMPANY

Projects Overview

www.griffithcompany.net

Since our inception over a century ago, Griffith Company has been recognized as a full-service contractor with the capabilities, engineering expertise and resources to handle a wide range of projects. As a general engineering contractor with multiple specialty divisions, we continue to take on diverse projects for an array of agencies and owners, both in the private and public arena. Our projects extend across Southern California and beyond, and range in value between $100,000 and $150 million. We have contracted with virtually every department and city in the counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Kern and San Diego, as well as a number of leading private owners like the Irvine Company and Rancho Mission Viejo Company. Leveraging the diverse expertise of our specialty divisions, we have been awarded contracts and completed work for major ports, roads and bridges, redevelopment projects, airports, infrastructure and heavy construction. Implementing creative and resourceful problem solving, astute project management and a proven partnering approach, Griffith Company has successfully completed projects with significant time, logistical and environmental challenges. Our efforts have earned us a number of industry awards and recognition, as well as a portfolio of impressive, attractive projects instrumental to the region's growth.
